Desr Sirs;We travel a lot; we also live in a rural area where AM and FM constantly fade when you go around a corner or over a hill. Satellite radio has been the answer for us. We listen to it daily; the national and international news are most informative. Adding traffic and weather would only improve their service and use to us. Receiving traffic and weather news in a timely manner can be of critical importance, right? My wife and I urge you to recject the NAB's petition 04-160. It is ill-conceived and certainly not in the best interests of the listening public in general.

Thank you,
George Henrichson
